POSSE ON TRAIL OF INDIAN WARRIORS

Chase Follows Clash of Whites, Red Skins in Utah

ONE KILLED, TWO WOUNDED

Town is Isolated as Fleeing Band Cut Wires

(BULLETIN)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. —

(United Press.) — Fifty renegade Piute Indians, hunted by sheriffs posess for two days have been captured in the mountains near Blanding, according to courtiers who arrived here today.

The prisoners include the leaders of the band of Indians who cut wire communications from Blanding and liberated two bucks charged with stealing sheep, the courtiers reported.

One of the liberated bucks was shot and killed and two other Indians were injured in a skirmish when the posess trapped the Indians, the report said.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. — (Associated Press.) — A posse of white settlers of San Juan county, southeastern Utah, early today was reported hot on the trail of the band of upward of a dozen renegade Piute Indians who went on the war path at Blanding Monday afternoon.

In a clash late yesterday between the posse and the warring red skins, one young buck known as Joe Bishop's boy, was reported to have been killed and two other Indians wounded. As far as could be learned the white suff' casualties.

The trouble at Blanding started when authorities brought to trial Joe Bishop's boy and another young Indian charged with the robbery of a sheep herder's camp. Just before the trial got under way a band of Indians entered the town and started making trouble. Joe Bishop's boy and the other young buck were found guilty of the robbery but they escaped from custody. With the escape of the two young Indians a posse of settlers was immediately formed and went in pursuit.

EFFORTS AT RADIO FAIL

There was but one telephone line in Blanding and the warring red skins cut that, isolating the town. Efforts to establish radio communication with Blanding from Salt Lake last night failed.

Old Posey, an aged Indian who was a leading figure in the outbreaks of past years, was said to be taking part in the present affair.

The Piute Indians in the San Juan section always have resented the coming of the white settlers and from time to time there have been outbreaks of a more or less serious nature.

Pursuit of renegade Indians is a dangerous task as they are all well armed with high-powered rifles and, according to reports, have a large amount of ammunition cached.

The San Juan county is mountainous and once the Indians gain their familiar haunts, apprehending them will be hard, possibly impossible.

LAWYERS RAPPED BY JUDGE

Cleveland Jurist Declares Plea for Bootleggers Disgusting

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press.) — The law's limit will be meted out in federal court to liquor law violators who are found guilty by a jury after pleading not guilty.

Federal Judge Killits declared today as he scathingly arraigned attorneys who make a practice of representing bootleggers and fighting for an acquittal only to justify their collection of a fee.

"I have no respect for an attorney who will come into this court and plead his client not guilty when he knows that client is guilty," the court stated from the bench. "It disgusts me to listen to a lawyer plead for mercy for his client after he has been convicted, plead for mercy on the ground he has no money, when the attorney has already collected all of the money he can get from him."

"It is a despicable practice — a practice that aggravates the court, wastes my time and wastes this down-trodden government's money. I will have no money for a violator who pleads not guilty and is found to have violated the law. After being tried by a jury, I will give the money to all such bootleggers in the future."

Judge Killits has been hearing liquor-law cases here since Monday and for the next week he has more than a score of such cases on his docket. The majority heard thus far have been tried by jury after not guilty pleas have been entered and all of the defendants have been found guilty.

Gunman's Father Heartbroken

WIFE DEFRAUDS HUSBAND WITH ANOTHER'S BABY

Judge Decides Against Woman In Strange Maryland Case — Declares Complaint of Deception Set Up In Divorce Action Is Based on Facts

ROCKVILLE, Maryland. — (Associated Press.) — An auburn-haired infant which until recently he believed to be their own son, was "fraudulently imposed" upon William T. Lewis, of Bethesda, by his wife and is not their child, Judge Edward C. Peter held in a decision in circuit court here today after hearing testimony on Lewis' application for a divorce.

He denied the application filed on grounds of desertion and gave Lewis ten days in which to file an amended bill giving the "imposition" of the child as grounds for divorce.

Medical evidence had satisfied him that Mrs. Lewis was not the child's mother, Judge Peter said in his decision, adding that such a fraud was a "grievous and cruel wrong" to a husband.

HUSBAND'S TESTIMONY

Lewis testified at the divorce hearing that for numerous quarters when they were first married his wife left him about five years ago to visit in Philadelphia. Several months later, he said, she wired him that "I and your little son are doing nicely."

Proud and happy at the news, Lewis said he left at once for Philadelphia and brought his "family" home, naming the baby after his "paternal grandfather." His suspicions were first aroused by his own father and mother when he and his wife separated two years later, Lewis said.

Mrs. Lewis declared on the stand that the child was their own, and replied to questions from attorneys as to witnesses to his birth that the doctor, and one of the two nurses attending her were dead and the other nurse was not in the room when he was born.

WOMEN PUT OUT OF OFFICE

North Dakota Town's Female Administration Badly Beaten

DES LACS, North Dakota. — (Associated Press.) — After a year's reign, Des Lacs' woman administration was defeated yesterday, the voters in the village election returning a complete male ticket.

Carried into office by a vote of 2 to 1 a year ago, the women were beaten by approximately the same ratio yesterday, according to unofficial returns.

Before yesterday's election the outcome was doubtful but by noon the women were worried and a late landslide of male votes confirmed their fears that they had been beaten.

The feminine officers were elected in March, 1922, and Des Lacs stepped into a unique place in the United States and probably in the world by claiming to be the only community that had elected a complete set of women officers, and married women at that.

The Women's Booster Club had announced that it intended to go in to campaign and put a ticket on the platform of a "bigger, better and cleaner Des Lacs." The men of the village scoffed at first and then finally "weakened" and went to the polls, electing the women by a vote of about two to one.

Mrs. F. H. Ward was elected marshal at that time and held the job for several months but, finally announced her intention of giving up the office to some woman who had fewer children to care for. She found the job was "too tough," she said and declared that "a woman's real place is in the home."

Women of America are spending approximately 15 per cent more on their Easter finery this year than last, a survey of the nation Wednesday by the United Press for The Lima News showed.

Reports from Lima stores indicate that women in this city and vicinity will be as well dressed as their sisters elsewhere, sales here averaging as high as in other cities.

Dispatches from cities in all parts of the country today told of an unusual rush of spring shopping. Modistes of Fifth-av, New York, say that while Egyptian modes are available in abundance, and undoubtedly will be worn by thousands, many buyers are now swinging away from these styles. The big New York stores are doing "better than would be expected from the weather" and sales show an increase of about 12 per cent over last year.

Despite Boston's winter weather, a slight increase is shown. In the matter of styles, Egypt and the second empire are running a close race.

Sales are slightly heavier in San Francisco and the Egyptian craze is noticeable in novelties.

St. Louis sales are reported a little heavier than last year.

All leading "Loop" stores in Chicago report a substantial increase over last year. Marshall Field and Co. said buying is heavy despite cold weather and early Easter. Increases are estimated at ten per cent.

In Philadelphia a 15 per cent increase is reported by the large department stores. Egyptian colors are be-

VISITS YOUTH AT COUNTY JAIL

Jazz, Hootch, Wine Blamed for Dackin's Downfall

BOND REJECTED BY "SHEIK"

Victim of Bullet Fired by Bandit Recovering

A wayward son, faced a heartbroken father Wednesday, when Virgil Dackin, 18, Toledo "sheik bandit," charged with robbing and shooting Henry Evans, grocer, walked out of cell in Allen-co jail to meet his father, William H. Dackin, 57, realtor.

Tears streamed down the father's face as he greeted his son.

"Why Virgil, my boy," he sobbed, "this is terrible. I don't know what to say. Your mother is too sick over this to come."

The sheik then briefly related the story of his travels since he left home Friday night to go with an orchestra to Detroit.

Some wine he drank with other members of the organization, he said, made him dizzy. They left his asleep in a taxicab. From Detroit the boy told of going to Dayton, and of the circumstances that led up to his arrest Monday night, after he had launched on a crime career pulling jobs in three cities.

FATHER IS DAZED

"Why did you do it?" pleaded his father. "Didn't you know you could have come home. We wouldn't have cared. You know I've been a father to you, and would take you in the office?" The father appeared dazed.

"Yes, I know," said the boy, "but I didn't mean to keep this up."

Dackin, who is a former police officer and railroad man, believes that his son was doped at the time he robbed stores in three cities.

"You must have been crazy," he declared, "it isn't like you. I can't understand it."

Mack Orle, Chicago orchestra manager, is blamed by the father for his son's plight.

He induced the boy to leave home to play in a jazz orchestra, promising him $50 a week salary, the elder Dackin said.

"He was calling him up and meeting and talking with him all winter," said the father. "I used to be proud of his saxophone playing. Now I wish he had never been able to play a note."

Prior to leaving home, the boy had been employed at the Toledo Wheel works for more than a year. According to the father, he had worked steadily.

JAZZ, HOOTCH, WINE

"It's this jazz and hootch and wine, that did it," he said. "He had his hair the way he does, because he thought it made him look like a musician."

"Virgil," he said to the boy, "I'd rather that you were a man and bald-headed than to be the way you are with that marcelled hair."

Virgil refused to allow his father to provide bond, as he was prepared to do.

"I got in this," he said, "I'll get out. I'd rather stay here."

"Tell mother not to worry," he said, as a catch ebook the "sheik's" voice. "I know now I did wrong," he sobbed. "If I ever get out of this, I'll go right."

He turned and walked unsteadily back to his cell.

Five years ago, as a mere boy, Virgil stole a bicycle at Dayton and was sent to the Lancaster reformatory for a year. He told Dayton juvenile authorities he had no home and gave the name of Charles Seymour.

Is 18 months' search finally disclosed his whereabouts, the father said. At Lancaster the boy learned music and played in the school band. "They sent him there to reform him," sighed the parent, "but it's like too many other cases. They didn't."

Hunger strike staged by Virgil Dackin, 19, boy "sheik bandit" of Toledo, was ended at the county jail Wednesday morning.

A platter laden with fried ham,

TELLS OF SLAIN BEAUTY'S LIFE

Some light on the strange murder of Dorothy King, the "Butterfly of Broadway," has been cast by her roommate, Hilda Ferguson (above) who is in the cast of the "Music Box Revue."

LOVE FOR SLAIN MODEL DENIED

Chicago Man Sought in Probe of King Case

CHICAGO — (Associated Press.) — Jack Lanningan, a former friend of Dorothy Keenan, known as Dorothy King, who was found chloroformed in her New York apartment, today categorically denied he had charmed with the slain woman three weeks ago as believed by New York police. Lanningan, former owner of Broadway cabarets, said Chicago police had not questioned him and he had nothing to conceal.

"Why, it's absurd," he said. "I haven't even talked with the woman in the last eight months."

When it was told that Dorothy King was slain, he was shocked and to think that I should be connected with a case of that kind.

"Why, for a year, I've been in love with another woman and Miss King had been in love with another man," Lanningan said. "I intend to get married soon. I never was in love with Miss King, just sort of admired her. We just went around together, that's all."

POLICE STILL BAFLED

NEW YORK — (Associated Press.) — The murder of Dorothy Keenan, known as Dorothy King, who was chloroformed to death in her apartment last Thursday, still remained a mystery today, with the police admittedly no nearer a solution.

Police Inspector Coughlin was expecting information today from Chicago about Jack Lanningan, whom he asked police there to look up. Lanningan once lived with Miss Keenan while he conducted several Broadway cabarets and knows many of her acquaintances. The police have heard he returned from Chicago three weeks ago, after quarreling with Miss Keenan, left in a huff.

The inspector said he would like to know what they quarreled about. The theory persisted in police circles that Miss Keenan was chloroformed to death because she refused to deliver up a man within her power to "badder game" players. It was not even established that "John Marshall," her elderly, wealthy admirer, whose discretion seems to have kept him from telling his name to any person but Miss Keenan's colored maid, was the proposed victim. There were other admirers of wealth, one of whom penned endearing letters to her. "Marshall" is said to have written her no letters.

Lima Listed As 'Bad' Town By Wanderer

Lima heretofore is on the list of "bad" towns kept by the hoboes' bureau of information at its national headquarters.

A walking delegate ranshayed out of city hall Wednesday morning and ploughed toward the Erie Railroad yards, invoking Divine interference in the placid lives of city officials with many references to the deity and the hereafter.

"No times was never as good as they used to be," ran his monologue. "This tag end of winter and me without clothes to keep me warm and nothing to keep my stomach from sticking to my spinal column — an' they ask me where is my pink ticket."

"Pink ticket — me with a pink ticket! What would the boys say to that? No cash, no credit, no nothing but a stumminck that flaps in the wind, and they want 'know where is my pink ticket."

"We usta go down to old man Welty's and get a good feed on the strength of our handsome fizziog-nomial features, and with none of the lawyers' an't, buta and hereinafore attached. And now they want to see our pink ticket, signed by no less a personage than the superintendent of streets. That, they say, shows that you've done a day's work and got a meal comin'."

"An' who, I'd like t'know, wants t'be a day's work? Ah'm goin' to Germany or Zion City or somewhere where the bummin' is easy. This town — blah."

4 BURN TO DEATH

Oklahoma Mother, Three Children Perish in Flames

HEALDTON, Okla. — (United Press.) — A mother and her three children were dead today as a result of a fire which destroyed their home here.

Mrs. William Graham, 30, was found with her three children, the eldest four years old, clapsed in her arms, following a fire caused by an overheated stove. Several attempts were made to rescue the four, but were prevented by the intense heat.

SENATOR BORAH SPEAKS AT AKRON TONIGHT

AKRON — Senator W. E. Borah, of Idaho, who will speak Wednesday night at the rally arranged by Congressman C. L. Knight, arrived in the city today.

Borah will be entertained at the home of Knight, but plans have been made to have him spend a part of the day at Hotel Portage, where headquarters will be maintained for out-of-town delegations.

The banquet for which 1,200 tickets have been sold will begin at the armory at 6 o'clock. It is expected 3,000 people will hear Borah's address. Altho several visiting congressmen will be introduced, Borah will be the only speaker.

SHAKEUP DUE TO HARDING'S MOVE

Third Party Likely to Result From Campaign

LAFOLLETTE PUT TO FORE

Democrat May Step Thru Breach Into White House

(BY FRASER EDWARDS)

WASHINGTON. — (United Press)

— Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, progressive leader for many years, is maintaining a sphinx-like silence, regarding any plans he may have for winning a presidential nomination.

Altho LaFollette believes that Attorney General Daugherty had him in mind when he referred to the "one man" who might oppose President Harding for the Republican nomination in 1924, the progressive leader refuses to reply in any way to Daugherty's challenge or give any inkling of his plan.

"Not a word," was his only comment today, as he raised a protesting hand in response to inquiries as to whether or not he would be a presidential candidate.

WHAT LEADERS SEE

Despite his silence, a LaFollette-for-president boom has taken definite form, it was learned. It "won't get far," Attorney General Daugherty said, in announcing President Harding's candidacy for re-nomination, but party leaders here see in it the possibility of a shakeup.

1 — A split in the Republican ranks in 1924 permitting a Democrat to step thru the breach into the White House.

2 — A third party that may develop sufficient strength to live after the 1924 campaign.

LAFOLLETTE POLICY

In maintaining silence, but saying word, LaFollette is said to be pursuing the policy he laid down at the progressive conference here last fall.

LaFollette's theory is that any third party must come as a result of a demand from the country. The same principle has been applied to his candidacy.

In carrying to the country their fight to organize important houses and senate committees which will enable them to shape legislation, the progressives will conduct what amounts to a campaign for their leader, LaFollette.

With house members from fourteen states already enlisted in the progressive bloc, Representative John M. Nelson, of Wisconsin, LaFollette lieutenant and house leader, expects an overwhelming response from the country.

Both Republicans and Democrats concede that the avowed candidacy of LaFollette would be inevitable, if the movement comes up to progressive expectations and amounts to a virtual demand for opposition to Harding.

ADVISORS DIVIDED

VERO, Fla. — (United Press.) — Complete rest for Mrs. Harding during the remainder of the presidential party vacation trip was ordered by her physician today as the result of a slight indisposition she suffered following activities at Miami.

She will probably remain aboard the house boat on which the party is traveling until it arrives at St. Augustine, probably Friday night.

Word has gone out that politics will not be discussed for the remainder of the trip. This is the result of Attorney General Daugherty's announcement Harding will be the 1924 Republican nominee, which has caused a division among the president's advisors. Many of them believe it premature.

The president is giving considerable thought to the subjects of speeches for his western trip. Among other things, it is said, he will stress heavily the subject of law enforcement for rich and poor alike, dwelling on the wet and dry issue to some extent. Mr. Harding will probably play golf today at Melbourne.

U. S. BUILDING SHIPS TO MOTHER NAVY PLANES

CAMDEN, N. J. — Two floating airbases are now under construction for the United States, one at the New York ship building yards here, the other at the Fore River Shipyard.

Originally the two airplane carriers were to have been the battle cruisers Saratoga and Lexington. Modification of the naval program at the Arms Conference prevented this. Peace programs and their like, however are not interfering with development of the art of aerial naval warfare.

Rather than waste the $7,000,000 worth of labor and material that had already gone into the construction of the ships, it was determined to convert them into airplane carriers, with super-equipment of every sort.

Each of the carriers is to be 850 feet long with a beam of 105 feet. The upper surface of each boat will be fashioned into a long flat landing platform for airplanes. The smokestacks will look like three stacks widened and flattened at the top. They will be crowded close together.

BUSINESS TO SUSPEND ON GOOD FRIDAY

General Observance of Day Projected at Delphos

CRUCIFIXION ANNIVERSARY

Churches Invited to Hold Special Services

A movement to hold general observance of Good Friday in Delphos has been set afoot by the Catholic Knights of Ohio. In a letter sent by William Gladen, secretary, to the Knights of Columbus, he requests their cooperation in observing the anniversary of Christ's death on the cross.

It is planned to suspend business between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p. m., the period during which Christ hung upon the cross. Each business man will be solicited in the matter.

H. A. Lang, member of the Knights of Columbus, will visit all ministers of the city as well as business men. It is proposed to hold services in each church.

Knights of Columbus have approved an invitation from the C. K. of O. to visit the church from 2 to 3 p. m. on Good Friday. Members of the two orders will meet in the C. K. of O. clubrooms, Commercial block, at 1:30 p. m. and march to St. John's church in a body.

Good Friday, March 20, will mark the climax of a week of special services in Catholic churches commemorating the epochal events preceding Christ's death.

COMMITTEES NAMED TO AID IN STAGING K. C. ANNUAL DELPHOS SHOW

Committees have been named by Dr. D. J. Clark, lecturer of Delphos, council, Knights of Columbus, to assist in staging the annual K. C. show, April 10 and 11.

The production will be in the nature of a review. C. C. Cleveland, Lima, is in charge. He has called another rehearsal for Thursday evening.

A request has been made for more male talent. About 12 more are needed to complete the cast. The committees are as follows:

Executive: Dr. D. J. Clark, chairman; Raymond McKown, secretary; H. A. Lang and C. C. Cleveland. Talent: A. C. Weger, chairman; Rudolph Snyder, Joseph Mach and Arthur Kramer.

Theater: Henry Inholt, chairman; Dr. F. A. Young, Michael Kramer and Barney Volkmann.

Advertising and Programs: Claude Bergfeld, Alex Stalkamp, Amanda Laug, Sylvester Grothouse and A. J. Landick.

Tickets: Lawrence Lantz, Dr. D. J. Clark, E. H. Hoch, Joseph Weisgerber and T. P. Snyder.

K. C. INITIATION DATE CHANGED AT DELPHOS

Decision to change the date of its next initiation was made Tuesday night at a meeting of Delphos council, Knights of Columbus. The original date had been set for May 6, but it is now found necessary to stage it earlier.

The event probably will take place the latter part of April, either April 22 or 29. The first degree will be conferred on a class of candidates April 3.

Definite arrangements will be made by the initiation committee, headed by Joseph Weisgerber. A class of 40 candidates is expected.

Applications are being received and balloted upon as quickly as possible. Revs. Frederick Rupert and Albert Bishop of St. John's church addressed the lodge. Two selections were sung by the quartet.

DR. DEATON TO DELIVER DELPHOS BACCALAUREATE

Dr. W. A. Deaton, pastor of the Delphos Methodist church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon before members of the graduation class of Delphos high school, May 13. Dr. Deaton accepted Wednesday.

Rev. Arthur Valentine, pastor of the United Brethren church, will give the invocation at commencement exercises for 27 graduates on May 17. O. T. Corson, Oxford, will deliver the graduation address.

"That's How Father John's Medicine Acts on a Cold"

Father John's Medicine acts on a cold like water on fire. We have used Father John's Medicine in our family and the children have been helped greatly by it. We think Father John's Medicine is a safe remedy in time of sickness. (Signed) Mrs. A. Baldassini, West Quincy, Mass.

Father John's Medicine will "put out" a cold because it gives strength to fight off disease and helps the patient to regain normal health. It is safe for all the family to take because it is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.—Adv.

DELPHOS SOCIETY

State court of the Catholic Daughters of America was organized at Cleveland Tuesday, Mrs. B. L. Jannan and Mrs. T. P. Snyder, of Delphos, assisting with the work. The object of the new organization is to eliminate some of the work taken care of by the national court.

Fifteen delegates were present, representing every court in the state. The meeting was held at the Hotel Cleveland. Miss Mary Duffy, of New Jersey, vice grand regent of the C. D. of A., presided.

Officers elected are as follows: Mrs. May A. Brady, state regent; Miss Helen Clark, state secretary; Mrs. Mary Pahlow, state treasurer; Mrs. M. Crane, state monitor; Mrs. Mary Swick, advocate.

A banquet was served in the Georgian rooms of the hotel at 7 p. m., after which a program was enjoyed. Miss Mary Murphy was toastmistress. Mesdames Pahlow, Crane, Swick and Miss Theresa Kahout of Defiance gave addresses. Humorous readings, lamp selections and other musical entertainment was also given.

Mrs. H. M. Viel, E. Third-st., opened her home to the members of the Sorosis club Tuesday afternoon. At this meeting the program of the club for the following year was read.

After the business meeting an afternoon tea was held honoring Mrs. Viel's house guest, Miss Hanna.

The regular meeting of the club will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. G. McCoy, W. Third-st.

C. L. C. Sewing circle of the United Brethren church met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Valentine, S. Franklin-st., Tuesday evening.

The members spent the evening in sewing after which music was enjoyed. Two new members were taken in. They are Miss Atheline Ashby and Miss Meoma Hummer.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Miss Meoma Hummer, N. Washington-st.

Men's Gideon Band Class met at the home of Jacob Ludd, Tuesday evening. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

One guest was present, John Ashbaugh, Findlay. Lunch was served later in the evening by the host.

The next meeting will take place in one month with Robert Bryan, S. Franklin-st.

Royal Daughters of the United Brethren church will meet Friday evening in the basement of the church. An invitation is extended to the Men's Gideon Band class to be present.

Foreign Mission Society of the Methodist church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. O. Brotherton, N. Breckin-st.

Mrs. J. H. Jenkins, E. Third-st., will entertain the Ladies' Bible class of the Presbyterian church Friday evening.

W. R. A. Club Girls will meet at the home of F. H. Staup, S. Franklin-st., Thursday evening. Miss Martha Staup will be hostess.

ROBBERY PROBE HALTED; PRINT REPORT AWAITED

Investigation into the attempted robbery at the Ricker Lumber company office in Delphos March 11, has been halted pending receipt of fingerprint photographs from Lima police. Several well-defined finger marks were recovered with a camera, but no return has been received on them by Delphos police.

Knobs on a safe were knocked off. The same action was taken in an attempt to enter a safe at the Horline Lumber company case, but no fingerprints were left by marauders.

MANAGER OF DELPHOS LEGION BALL TEAM IS IN SEARCH OF RECRUITS

Manager Glenn Shrider of the Delphos American Legion ball club is in the market for some good material to use at the receiving end of his battery.

Harry Morco, local catcher who has had experience with the Delphos club, will probably be retained. Shrider says, with some other first rate semi-pro backstop.

The club will be built around the catcher. Shrider proposes to make that position the pivot of the entire club.

Indications are that there will be little difficulty in lining up pitchers. Gay Linton, Delphos star pitcher who performed nobly on the hill last season, is slated as the first string pitcher. A relief twirler will also be secured.

Shrider is laying back and waiting the outcome of the things some of the former Delphos players have secured among Eastern baseball leagues. Especially is this true of Payne, Ft. Wayne hurler.

Carl Huber, shortstop, has received a contract blank from one of the bush leaguers. Whether or not he will sign it is problematical.

OBEYS WIFE, GIVES UP AS DESERTER

Lima Soldier Quits Army for Bride; is Jailed

Glenn Bement, former Lima soldier, is a prisoner in the county jail at Van Wert, held by Sheriff Terry, awaiting the arrival of military officers to take charge of the man as a deserter from the army.

Bement worked in Lima and Ft. Wayne and about a year ago was married at Van Wert to Elsie Brandenberg, while he was on furlough from New York barracks.

According to his admission, after Bement returned to army duty things were not as pleasant as he desired them and he went back to his bride. His wife did not know he had deserted. Bement told Sheriff Terry, she supposed he had been discharged, but recently learned of his deception.

He said his wife insisted that he return to the army, square up his account with military authorities and then return to her, otherwise she would refuse to longer live with him. He was impelled thereby, he explained, to give himself up as a deserter.

Bement says his father is an air salesman in Grand Rapids, Mich., and that his mother resides in South Dakota.

JURY TAMPERING PROBE BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

WABKEGAN, Ill. — Evidence indicating Chicago labor leaders and gunmen were paid $50,000 to attempt to bribe the jury which sat in the trial of Governor Len Small, will be presented to the Lakeside grand jury which meets here Monday.

The grand jury was called by Judge Claire Edwards, who presided in the governor's trial. A. V. Smith, state's attorney, in charge of the jury tampering probe, refused to state today whether the reported jury tampering was instigated by supporters of the governor or his enemies.

It was learned unofficially that Governor Small personally has in no way been connected with the reports.

The main evidence so far gathered, centers around the approach of a venturism by a saloon keeper, who said he represented the Chicago labor leaders. Both the venturism and the saloon-keeper were said to be ready to give a full account of their part in the deal to the grand jury.

GRIEVANCES MAY BE SETTLED

Hoped-for Achievement of Pan-American Conference

OPENS AT SANTIAGO SUNDAY

Far-reaching Subjects to Come Before Meeting

(BY CHARLES P. STEWART)

WASHINGTON — (Special) — The fifth Pan-American Conference opens at Santiago, Chile, March 25.

If it passes off pleasantly it may be taken for granted that little has been accomplished. If there's some plain, strong talk, there'll be reason to assume good has been done.

The Latin-American countries have certain deep-seated misunderstandings among themselves. The time may come when the United States can do her part toward settling them.

What is of interest to the North American delegates at the Chile meeting is the existence of some bitter South American grievances against the United States.

To a fellow Latin-American, the Latin-American speaks plainly. To the visiting North American his instinct is to be very polite, leaving disagreeable subjects strictly alone.

There is the danger that, deceived by his politeness, the North American delegates may go home from Santiago believing everything all right in which case, the South American delegates will go home as biased as they came.

But if the South Americans can be induced to unbuckle their minds, the North Americans will have a chance to explain.

SUSPECT AMERICAN AID

A study of the South American press shows these subjects in particular, that need to be discussed:

1. The dispatch by the United States of some 40 experts to help Brazil strengthen her navy. This pleased Brazil—but was regarded by the other republics as assisting the Brazilians to arm against them. It caused a abrupt termination of disarmament negotiations which were progressing between Argentina, Brazil and Chile. Because of it, the Buenos Aires newspapers, in particular, have attacked President Harding's disarmament utterances as insincere.

2. The proposed League of American Nations. This is criticized from two angles. Some declare it is a Uruguayan scheme to secure North American backing in a dispute with Argentina concerning control of the mouth of the River Plate. Others believe it is calculated to spread North American domination. A third viewpoint interprets the move as assuming the equality of the relatively strong states south of Panama with the petty republics of Central America and the West Indies.

3. North American efforts to bring Latin America into a patent and trade-mark union with her. This plan, too, it has succeeded partially in Cuba and Brazil, is attacked elsewhere as an attempt to enable the United States to shape such legislation to suit her own purposes in disregard to the other signatories' rights.

4. North American proposals for a single Pan-American money. This is spoken of suspiciously.

5. Canada's failure to receive an invitation to the conference. The South Americans want Canada represented frankly because they think she could be played off against the United States. They attribute her exclusion to the jealousy of the United States. The point having been made that she is not an independent country, the big Buenos Aires newspaper, "La Nacion," asked sarcastically: "Are we to assume, then, that Santa Domingo is?"

COMPARISON RESENTED

6. The advertising that Henry P. Fletcher has received as a suitable head of the North American delegation to Santiago because he was a successful ambassador to Mexico. Without disputing that he may be well equipped for the mission, the South American press represents the idea that any similarity is seen between them and the Mexicans.

The North Americans have the advantage of one topic—if they bring it up—which will interest South Americans intensely. This is the proposition to invest large sums in rubber development on the southern continent. True, such an enterprise would put money directly into regions where rubber grows, but all would count on getting some of the overflow.

Besides, it would be regarded as only a start, tending to encourage further investment in other lines.

CHIROS WEARY OF JAIL EXISTENCE

Thirty More Days, But They'll Stick, They Say

With 29 more days incarceration ahead of them, four chiropractors locked up in the county jail have settled down to the monotony and routine of prison life.

Lie behind the bars is wearisome, they admit, especially with the approach of spring. But none of the four practitioners has weakened. They are Glen V. John, Ezekiel Hadsell, B. B. Swen and C. L. Potter. By banding over the sum of $25 minus credit for the time served at 60 cents a day, any or all could walk out of the jail free.

"We are here to stick to the finish," they all declared.

Announcement of a second meeting to create public sentiment favorable toward enactment of legislation which will give the chiropractors their own examining board, was made by Rev. Howard Mayer. No date has been set.

BEAUTIFICATION OF LIMA PUBLIC SQUARE IS URGED

E. E. Gunther, of the Artistic Gardener's association, Ann Arbor, Mich., and City Manager C. A. Birmingham discussed plans for the beautification of the public square Tuesday afternoon.

Gunther, an authority of landscape gardening, urged the use of flowers, shrubbery and ornamental lamp posts as an aid to the appearance of the square.

PART IN FRENCH PLAY AT DELPHOS REASSIGNED

Illness of Lucille Gachet, member of the cast for the Delphos high school French play "La Poudre Aux Yeux," to be given April 6, made it necessary at a meeting Tuesday to reassign her role.

Eugene Muthofland, faculty producer, announces that Miss Bernice Robyn will assume the role.

"ALL A MISTAKE" TO BE DELPHOS HIGH CLASS PLAY

"All a Mistake," a farce comedy, will be presented by senior class of Delphos high school May 16, as the 1923 class play.

Miss Nancy Williams, faculty member in charge of the class play, received manuscripts Tuesday and will begin at once to select a cast.

Accident may suddenly wreck the health of a person is always fearful. Typhoid does the same thing slowly and surely that he is not alarmed, Dr. Foster.

STORK WON'T VISIT DOORN CASTLE

Reports Concerning Ex-Kaiser's Wife Denied by Writer

(By FERDINAND JAHN)

DOORN.—(United Press)—Princecess Hermine, the ex-kaiser's bride, is not expecting a visit from the stork.

Loving children as she does, Hermine would be happy if she were, for she heartily wishes another child to add to her already large family.

But from a source whose knowledge of the princess' condition is unimpeachable, I have established beyond peradventure that the princess is not at the present time in a delicate condition.

Amsterdam music halls have a skit based upon the idea that a visit of the stork is expected—it was introduced since erroneous newspaper reports were circulated. In this skit, the singer says that while most folks get their babies from a stork, if there are any new children at Doorn, they will be brought by the Prussian Eagle.

LIMA MAN ATTENDING PROGRESSIVE RALLY

Rally of Ohio progressive Republicans, to be held in Akron tonight, called by Charles L. Knight, defeated candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1922, is expected to stir C. O. P. party circles in Ohio, it is stated.

United States Senator William E. Dora is one of the speakers. The assembly is looked upon as the initial move in the formation of a progressive Republican party in Ohio to oppose administration policies they term reactionary.

Elmer McClain, former service director here, left for Akron to attend the meeting.

UNIVERSITY JUNIORS PICK CLASS OFFICERS

Merle Evans, Ambridge, Pa., has been elected president of the junior class of Ohio Northern university at Ada. Evans is a law student and was a football star last season on the O. N. U. eleven.

Other officers are: Luke Shires, Philadelphia, vice president; Edith Snyder, Ada, secretary; H. J. Robertson, Canton, treasurer.

BLAZE FROM BACKFIRE

Backfire from the engine of an auto belonging to J. M. Good, stored at the Lima Nash company's garage, Cherry alley, caused a small fire Tuesday afternoon, which was extinguished by firemen with slight damage.

OVERWORKED MOTHERS

We all know them. Mothers who in their anxiety to keep their homes neat and attractive and their little ones as well dressed as their playmates, toil on day in and day out, sweeping, dusting, mending and cooking, often suffering from backache, pain in side, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, all symptoms of more serious ailments. Thousands of such women have found relief from such suffering by taking Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually being published in this paper.

For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health and strength.—Adv.

MAN ADMITS THEFT OF PURSE, POLICE ASSERT

Paul Higbie, 24, barber, North Baltimore, was arrested Wednesday noon on a charge of petit larceny. Police assert Higbie confessed stealing a purse containing $23, from Mrs. Louis Grover, 502 E. High-st., Saturday.

Higbie was arrested at the Y. M. C. A. with only $1.84 in his possession. According to police, Higbie called at Mrs. Grover's home to see a room or about borrowing some money. This was refused, it is stated, and according to admission said to have been made to police by Higbie, he picked up Mrs. Grover's purse, lying on the table, and took $23.44 was used to pay his room rent and other bills he owed Higbie admitted, according to police.

LIMA OF FUTURE IS VISIONED

Six Hundred New Homes Necessary, Merchants Told

LABOR SUPPLY ESSENTIAL

Housing Must Come First, R. B. Barnhardt Declares

A vision of the future of Lima was presented to 100 retail merchants of the city Tuesday evening at a dinner at the Elk's club, by R. B. Barnhardt, of the Lima Securities company.

"The first question a big industry asks about a town is 'How is the labor supply?'" Barnhardt declared. "And it is because the small cities have no labor supply that big industry stays away from them. If you want to grow, you must have a labor supply, and if you want a labor supply you must have houses for workmen to live in."

"This is exactly what the Lima Securities company proposes to provide," Barnhardt asserted.

"You merchants are spending thousands of dollars to expand your businesses," he said. "The money that brings that expansion can come from only one source: The payrolls of Lima. An increase in your business depends directly on the increased business of local industry, and industry cannot expand unless it can get workmen to come to Lima."

"Industries that are already located in Lima want to add 1,000 men to their payrolls during the coming year. That means 5,000 persons who will become customers of your merchants. It means $3,000,000 added to the payrolls that will be spent in Lima," Barnhardt said.

MANY HOUSES NEEDED

"Lima needs 600 houses during the next year. Local builders can provide only 225 of these. The community must supply the rest."

"Six hundred houses means 600 second mortgages of about $1,000 each. The Lima Securities company proposes to take these second mortgages off the contractors' hands so that they may have their capital available for immediate building at all times."

"This proposition means this much to you merchants, it means a safe investment; a total return on your money of about 8 per cent; the addition of 5,000 customers to your public and a payroll increase of $3,000,000, most of which will be spent in Lima."

Barnhardt was introduced by J. J. Morton, manager of the Board of Commerce, who declared that "merchants are overlooking an opportunity to insure their future volume of business by providing homes for high class workmen."

"If we came to you merchants and told you we could bring an industry with a payroll of $3,000,000 to Lima if you would buy a certain amount of stock in it, we wouldn't have a bit of trouble raising the money," Morton declared. "On this proposition you industries are already here. If you want to expand your own businesses, you've got to take care of industry," he concluded.

R. J. Plate, of the Deisel-Wemmer company, pointed out that the responsibility of providing homes for men who want to come to Lima does not rest entirely with the merchants. "That is a community responsibility," Plate said. "You merchants are as much concerned as we are."

No opposition was heard against renewal of the mutual agreement among all branches of the Board of Commerce that all solicitors asking donations of money or goods, or offering tickets of questionable advertising media for sale, should be required to obtain an authorization card from the board before soliciting.

Signs referring all solicitors to the board for a permit will be prominently displayed in stores and offices. Permits will be granted for propositions which are in the common interest and the public good, J. E. Morton, manager, said.

PUBLIC PAYS BILLS

"Funds that are taken out of your stores by solicitors are charged to advertising and are added to your cost of doing business," Morton told. "In the end, the public pays your charity bills. What we want to do is cut off this expense, and you can lower your mark up accordingly," he added.

R. B. Dunn, G. H. Holstine, A. C. Jacob and Jonas Wohlgenuth also spoke in favor of the resolution.

O. C. Robinson brought up the question of congestion in the shopping district.

"We park our own cars in front of our stores, and keep our customers out," Robinson said. "What we need is an ordinance restricting parking time and place."

Chief of Police T. A. Lanker declared that business men were using the city streets as a public garage.

because they did not respect parking regulations.

An ordinance restricting parking space and limiting parking time to an hour and a half was suggested.

Lanker produced a list of 101 stores which he said were absolutely dark at night. He requested them to place a 10-watt light over the safe, which can be seen from the street.

Miniature House Will Be Given To Children

There are playhouses and playhouses, but do you ever see one built just like a real home, large enough for the children to set up "housekeeping" just as Dad and Mother did?

Some fortunate Lima boy or girl will get just such a house in the near future. It is to be the gift of the Lima Elks club at their May Festival, May 2 to 12.

The house, 10 by 12 feet, is a gift to the club by Frank Bentz, home builder. It is constructed along bungalow lines and has a living room across the entire front, a kitchen and dining room to the rear. An attractive porch graces the front.

Bentz had the house constructed at a cost of $300. The ceilings are high enough for a man to stand upright within. Everything in it is a replica of that to be found in a real home.

The front door has paneled glass and the windows are miniature sash which slide just like the ones at home. The house is fully wired for electric lights. A number of novel features will be included.

The construction is regulation lap siding with asphalt shingle roof, and imitation brick foundation. It will be attractively painted.

The house will be moved to the front veranda of the Elks home shortly where it will remain on display until it is removed to make some little tots happy.

REV. JACOBS GIVES LAST OF EASTER TALKS AT "Y. W."

"What Think Ye of Christ," the last of a series of Easter talks, was given Wednesday noon by Rev. E. Bruce Jacobs, pastor of the Calvary Reformed church, at the Y. W. C. A.

Approximately 100 members of the eight industrial clubs are expected to attend the All-Club dinner Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the "Y. W." The industrial committee, of which Mrs. Harry Taylor is chairman, will be in charge.

An Irish program will be given, consisting of a scene from "Land of Our Heart's Desire," "Irish Myths" by Mrs. Kent Hughes and Irish songs by Mrs. Clem Baxter. Work in the gymnasium under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Bon-on, physical director, will follow the program.

BINGHAM DECLARES IN FAVOR OF POLICEWOMAN

Lima may have a policewoman shortly, if the League of Women Voters accept the suggestion of City Manager C. A. Bingham, who talked before that organization Tuesday night at the Public Library. In the first of a series of addresses on "Know Thy Community."

The city needs a policewoman, Bingham said, and would have one now if funds were available. The audience liked the idea and will probably seek means to provide funds for a woman officer.

Certain classes of cases, the city manager pointed out, can be handled much better by women than by men and results obtained by women are often more satisfactory.

Bingham also outlined the work of the safety department and told of funds needed.

Mrs. Gibson Dildine, president of the league, presided.

The second address will be given by Bingham April 3 at the library.

WHEELER HOME BOUGHT BY DR. FRANK STEINER

Announcement has just been made of the sale of the S. S. Wheeler home, 1526 Lakewood-av., by Mrs. J. C. Butcher, daughter of the late Mr. Wheeler, to Dr. Frank Steiner. The consideration was $23,000.

The home, one of the most attractive in the exclusive residential district, was bought by Dr. Steiner for his own use.

The deal was handled by Fisher & Fisher, realtors.

TRIALS HALTED, CASES AGAINST CITY SETTLED

Two cases scheduled for trial Tuesday were stricken from the docket, settlement having been effected out of court.

Damage action brought by Herbert Shaffer, E. North-st., against the city in connection with the construction of North-st bridge, was dismissed.

A suit filed by Ralph Runyan against Dr. Harry Hurd was also dismissed.

LOVE LACKING IN MANY WEDDINGS

Home, Companionship, Money Real Reason for Marriage

DIVORCES ARE INCREASING

Disillusionment and Unhappiness Comes Shortly After Ceremony

(BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT) NEW YORK—(Special)—People aren't marrying for love, nowadays. They may marry for a home, or money, or companionship or because they are young and he looks like those nice pictures you see in the collar ads.

But not for love, says Leonard McGee, attorney-in-chief for the New York Legal Aid Society, who during the past 13 years has listened to the marital woe of something like 35,000 persons.

"Love's about the one thing people don't marry for," says McGee, "even at that things wouldn't be so bad if people could only be sure of the substitutes. But they can't."

DISILLUSIONED The elderly traveling salesman who thinks he's about due for a little home cooking picks on a girl that he's dead sure is domestic. After they're married she tells him she's not going to be any man's slave and they drag around from one cheap boarding house to another.

"The girl clerking in the department store watches the married women who come in to shop and thinks it must be great to lie in bed in the mornings and not have to worry where the money's coming from."

She marries the nearest available young man and finds out that to get her housework done and look after her growing family she's got to work 12 hours a day instead of eight. "He marries her because she is dainty and sweet and pretty and after they're married he finds out that it takes all of his money and all of her time to keep her dainty and sweet and pretty."

"She marries him because of his high moral rectitude and then discovers that he's a drunk on religion."

DIVORCES INCREASING "If these people had ever really loved each other they would weather the domestic storms somehow. As it is, they make hot haste to a lawyer. Occasionally when a young husband discovers what an expensive process a divorce is, he decides that his wife's temper or dish-throwing proclivities are perhaps not so bad after all, and goes home to make things up."

But the number of divorces are "But the number of divorces is growing. Our office took care of 4000 the last year, an increase of 600 over the year before."

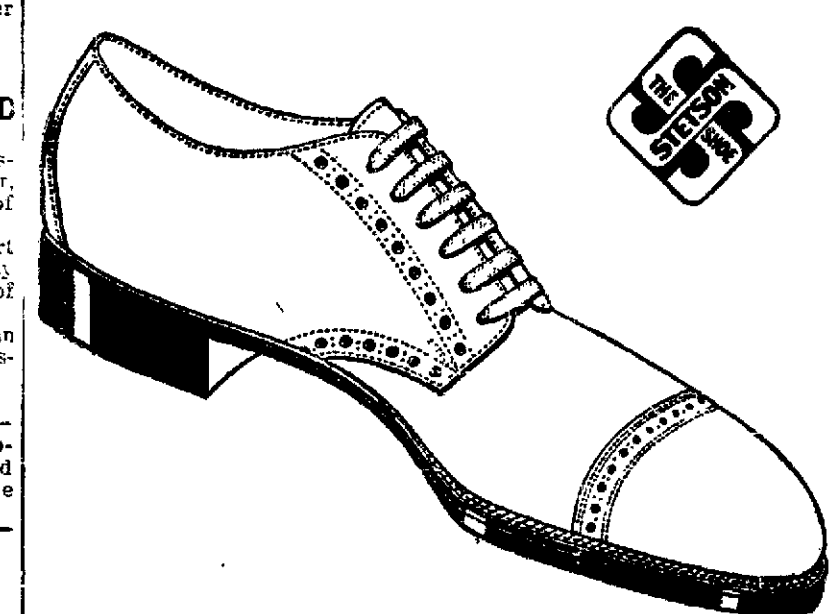

"The majority of divorces come from young persons who have married under age. The prove conclusively that it is a mistake to marry too young."

"Marriages to legitimize children are seldom happy. In most cases the man disappears immediately after."

MONOPOLY ELUDE POLICE No trace had been found Wednesday of Laverne Duncan, 16, and Walter Smith, 19, who left St. Mary's Tuesday morning and headed toward Lima. Police here were asked by Tony Duncan, father of the girl to pick them up if found in Lima. Duncan told police he believed that they were on their way to Toledo or Monroe, Mich., to be married.

RESIDENCE IS RANSACKED; $200 LIBERTY BOND TAKEN

No trace had been found Wednesday of burglars who entered the home of J. D. Agerter, 537 W. High-st., shortly after 3 p. m. and stole a $200 Liberty bond, after ransacking the house from top to bottom. Entrance was gained thru the front door by use of a skeleton key. Mrs. Agerter returned home at 8:30 p. m. after an absence of only an hour, finding the front door open. She summoned police, who found the strong box in the back yard, with its contents, including bank book, papers and two dollars in money, intact, with the exception of the $200 bond.

Police believe that the prowlers were familiar with the location of the box in the house and went direct to the place where it was kept. Drawers containing silverware, were pulled out and their contents overturned on the table, but nothing was taken.

Have You a Cough?

Here's How to Get Rid of the Cough and Rebuild the Body.

Wheelersburg, Ohio — "My wife had pneumonia about six years ago and it left her with a dreadful cough. At night she would cough until she was exhausted. She could get no rest or sleep. Her stomach was so bad that she could not retain food. She went down in flesh until she was merely skin and bones. I had tried many doctors and medicines but still she grew worse. At last a neighbor who had relied upon Dr. Pierce's medicines for years, told me about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and before she had taken all of the first bottle she began to improve. By the time she had the third bottle taken, her cough had entirely stopped. She gained in flesh and weighed twenty-nine pounds more than before she took the 'Discovery.'"—Edw. Pinson.

Go at once to your neighborhood drug store and get the 'Discovery' in tablets or liquid and you'll be surprised at the way you'll pick up.—Adv.

FIRST DAY OF SPRING

OFFICIALLY, spring is here. The season of balmy breezes, greening grass, budding trees and developing wild flowers is with us—speaking by the calendar. However, King Winter has prolonged his reign to such an extent that really it isn't safe to say that spring is here in fact.

It is the season when poets lumber up, the boys get interested in kites and marbles and their hands itch to swing a baseball bat. Fishermen see visions of big hauls, the golf enthusiast has already taken stock of his outfit and the radiator fans are ready to transform their indoor chatter into outdoor activity.

If you should put the question up to most anyone of the elder residents of the city, he or she would tell you that back in the good old days, garden making was a commonplace pastime at this particular season and all thoughts of winter conditions had faded into the background. That was before the forests were felled, the swamps drained and nearly all tillable acreage tilled.

Taking a retrospective view of the winter of 1922-23, now officially closed, one is impressed by the thought that while it was not of a character that might be termed severe, save for a few days at a time, it provided a brand of weather that was most aggravating. Fitful changes came on short notice. It was warm one day and cold the next. Thawing and freezing, snow remaining only a short time and no chance of an ice harvest, had anything the sort been desired or needed.

Time after time, when, in the natural order of things, the river should have been glazed with ice, it was swollen as a result of rains. It was just ten years ago this week that the Ohio valley was swept by the most disastrous flood of its history; when millions in property value was destroyed and hundreds of lives were lost.

Passing of time is not so rapid, nor fleeting events so commonplace that the average person cannot recall the events of the spring of 1913. And there is no desire to repeat the experience.

YOUR FEARS

SURGEONS find 27 silver spoons in the stomach of a patient in a Kansas asylum. In addition to the spoons, he had swallowed some sponges, matches, pins and a few other delicacies that usually appeal only to ostriches and goats in the comic pictures.

It's a remarkable case. For the unfortunate, who had tried to start a department store inside himself, apparently experienced no acute trouble as a result of his strange diet. His stomach had been "out of whack," and he had acted queerly, but symptoms were not pronounced enough for diagnosis until a doctor watched him thru a keyhole and saw him swallow his 27th spoon.

Now, if any of us so-called sane people swallowed even one spoon, we'd be at death's door inside an hour. Also, probably, hysterical. This shows what fear and imagination do to us.

GIVE a man a drink of pre-war whisky. Then, while he's enjoying the purring thrill, suddenly tell him that you got the whisky from a bootlegger and tried it out on him to learn whether it was wood alcohol.

You know the result. Instantly he begins to "feel" symptoms—queer shooting pains, burning in the stomach and a dimming of sight. Let the drinker's imagination continue unchecked, and inside an hour he'll be as physically upset, chances are, as if he really had swallowed wood alcohol.

His fear starts his imagination working. Imagination, in turn, produces symptoms of poisoning.

This principle works, at times, in all of us. We may have eaten only the purest of foods. But if we get the fear that some of the food was tainted, and that we're victims of ptomaine, the probability is that we'll become acutely ill. Conc. again, in reverse—"minute by minute, in every way, I get worse and worse."

SOMETIMES you tell the doctor, "I've had a lot to worry me lately, and I'm nervous and all upset and my stomach is in bad shape."

Worry, unbalancing certain minute factors in our system, affects the nerves and causes hyper-acidity of the stomach. That starts indigestion. Introspection—self-analysis—similarly affects nearly every other part of the body. If you begin feeling your pulse every few minutes, your heart will speed up or slow down, according to whichever you fear.

Excellent medicine prescription is this: Forget yourself and your health. Nature in the average case cures quickly, if we allow her to go ahead without interference from our fears and imagination.

ABE MARTIN

We think prohibition is makin' a wonderful progress when we consider that public officials won't monkey with unpopular laws. All the high school kids are jealous of Willie's boots 'cause his mother understands how to work algebra, probon a hot re-baked biscuit, and rashers of bacon. She wouldn't start so away afoot. Put in at the Windsor. And had my garnet reset. Thence to gaze at the flowers in the public square. Or where they should be. Has Mr. Logic ever proven to you, why it is necessary to dump people off in the middle of that Esplanade? Of course, the old Council told 'em they had to do it. It's so convenient when raining or snowing. And so much so, when blowing. Personally, I'd rather shelter myself in Dezel's doorway. Or the Lima Trust's triangular mark.

To the office. Whence came all merry and tanned. Mawruss Hottel, in from Dayton, and $1 in the shade. Back in time to show in his Silver Jubilee. Mawruss started with the old Mammoth Clothing store. And when King de Luxe tailed with oil, took that caravan-van for a battery. That is now the White Cafe. And Mawruss is going to celebrate with a price carnival.

In the pan-pers. Miss Winnie Worst has wed Peter Pancake, at South Charleston. And now, there will be little breakfast turnovers. There's Architect Andy DeCartin, whom I've not seen in many a day.

And M'sieur Breckenridge, auctioneer of City Hall. To the train-shed looking Auntie May-me for Chi.

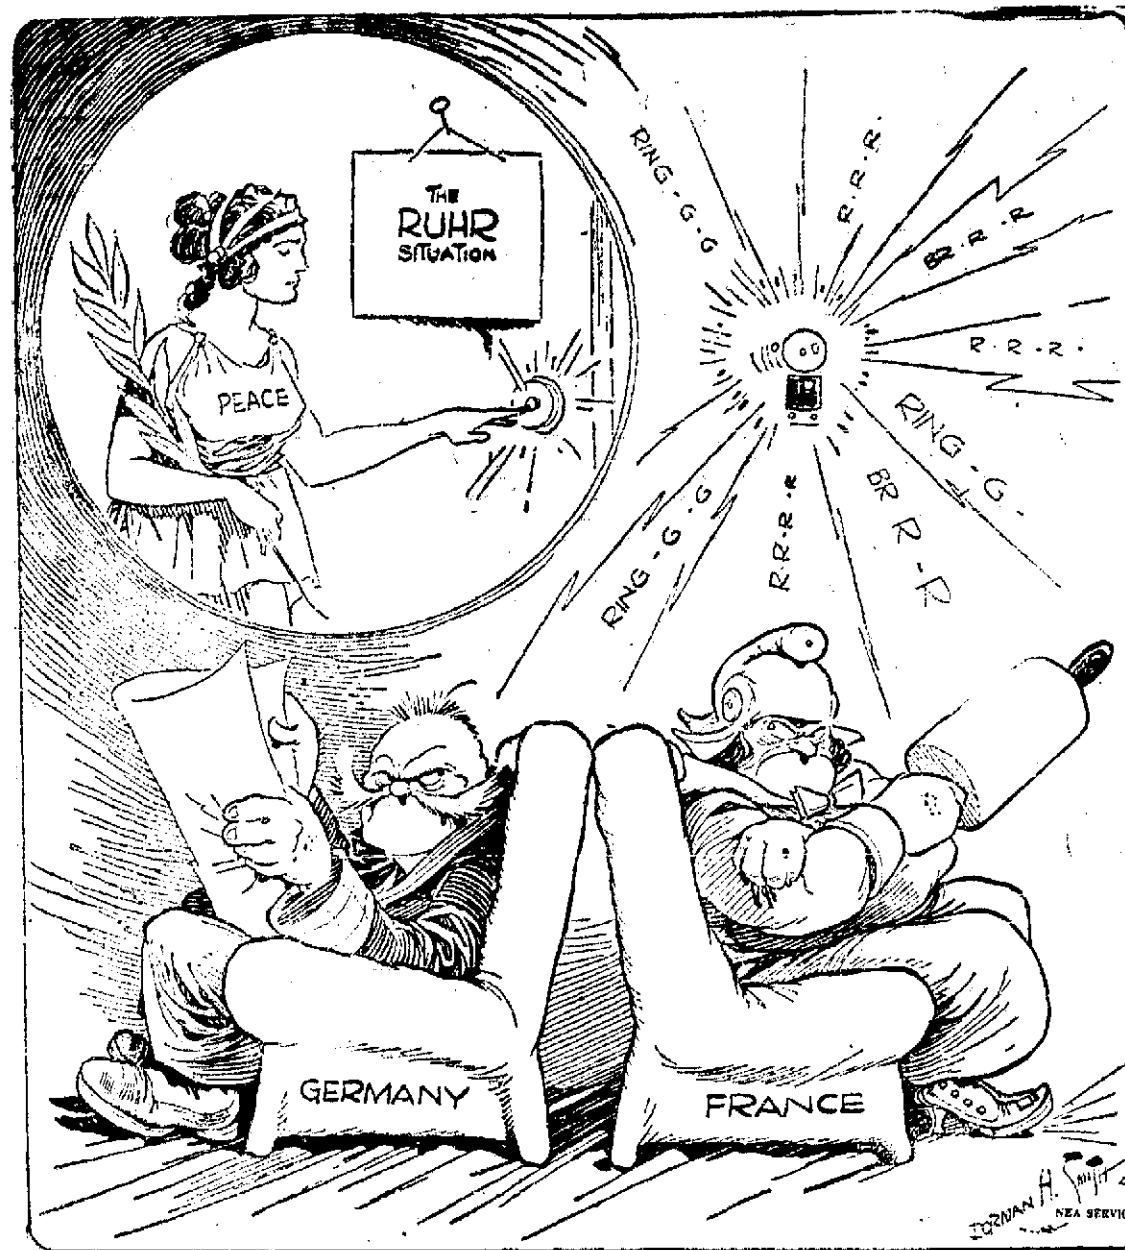

In the poste, a letter in red ink. Enclosing two one dollar bills from a reformed newsboy. Whose taylor he had stolen a dollar from us ten years ago. That boy is the real goods. And we credit it to Dr. Biederwolf. The extra dollar was for interest. And the missive unsigned.

Lunched, happily, but nothing to eat. The Chef still away with the greates cold that fell upon him. And my wife, poor wretch, scarce able to stand the damp steam from the kitchen kettle. Why don't spring come? Pochontas and flumonia have almost put the skids under me. And drat it, there goes Ote Davis in his Plummet, all smiling and gay.

Strolled anon. With ex-officer Charles Billstein. And saw another wearer of the city blue or khaki. The Hon. George Cook, West Market way.

In the evening, so while with a hook. Then to the petty accounts. Out, to find a young phillanderer embracing his opportunity on the Baptist Church steps. So, early to bed.

THE DESERT

SALOME, ARIZ.
The Desert is a boggy that they use to scare the tourist with. It really isn't very bad, its air is of the purest, with a tingle and a sparkle that are bound to make you vigorous. Altho of course the desert sun is frequently quite rigorous.

But on the tales that we were told of motor-tourists lost in it. And how they wandered days and days by cruel sand-storms tossed in it! The roads, they said, were terrible, untraceable, unseekable. You'd have to hire a flock of guides thru terrors quite unspeakable.

But none the less we took a chance, we found a trail well tramped in it. And when the desert darkness fell we pitched our tent and camped in it.

No centipeds disturbed our sleep, no rattlesnakes molested us. Beneath a clear and starry sky we cooked our meal and rested easy.

The desert road was not so worse. I've traveled lots of tougher ones. It had some soft and sandy spots, and other chunky, rougher ones.

But not one single mile of it would worry or would scare a son of Mississipp' or Alabama. Boy, there is no comparison!

If ever you should tour the west, don't let the desert frighten you. The natives camp it every day, and if you've pep and fight in you, you'll navigate its shifting sands and rocky roads, no doubt of it.

And tell the world it's not so bad as you come safely out of it! BERTON BRALEV. (Copyright, 1923).

SEEING LITTLE THINGS

Germes are as properly referred to as little "bugs" as they are as little plants. Perhaps they multiply rather more rapidly than quinea pigs or mosquitoes or mites and lack the means or facilities for travel which these higher classes enjoy, yet nevertheless it is my judgment as a botanist that germes are as rightly called animals as plants.

Not that it makes any difference what we call them. Little they care. All they ask of us is that we shall attend to their transportation; that we do with a degree of efficiency which must be gratifying to the microbes. We fetch and carry them everywhere—if a man were endowed with ultra microscopic vision he would probably succumb to a bad attack of delirium tremens, from gazing upon the hordes of prodigious cecid, bacilli, spirochetes, and other hideous monsters he would encounter everywhere. However, the one great drawback about microbes as animals or bugs is that they can't crawl. A highly developed and terribly virulent diphtheria or pneumonia germ, for instance, can't budge the smallest fraction of an inch to get at a likely victim.

Disease germes are in the sad plight of being all dressed up ready to do their damndest and no place to go unless somebody kindly gives them a lift. They are utterly incapable of getting anywhere at all save when conveyed to the spot by some agency, as a general rule it must be an animate conveyor, man, animal, or insect, which provides comfortable lodging en route.

Inanimate things are not good carriers of germes because they do not keep the germes warm and moist; it is good night for the average disease germ when the temperature falls much below that of the human body or the environment goes dry. Things are poor germ conveyors because travel on them is likely to expose germes to light; diffuse daylight kills most disease germes in an hour and direct sunlight kills them in a few minutes.

The man with the microscopic eyes might even grow accustomed to being haunted by hordes of helpless but hideous monsters—the first intuition would be the worst—but could he retain consciousness while watching the constant swapping of the monsters in droplets of spray given off when people cough, sneeze, talk or laugh with, at or upon one another? Could he preserve his sanity while watching a hand covered with monsters just lodged there in a lick of saliva, transferring the dangerous freight to another hand, the hand of a friend maybe? Even if he could, it would scarcely be worth while, for the man would surely begin to rave at the inevitable appearance of a cook or waiter or other food handler garnishing the dish with typhoid bacilli, innocently and unwittingly, as typhoid carriers are wont to work.

I often wonder what the cat drags into the parlor. I like cats, if not parlor, but a cat, in my way of thinking, is calculated to make a very competent germ carrier. Cats have, or take, such liberties and are so neighborly and affectionate and all that sort of thing. Dogs I like, too, but I know dogs carry disease germes, for I have taken a culture and found that the dog had diptheria bacilli in his throat. Isolation or quarantine too often fails to restrain these potential carriers. No, this isn't microbophobia. It is just hygiene. I'm going to tell you when I get to it, how to be resigned and happy altho completely surrounded by germes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Circumstantial Evidence
What could be a man's reason for exhibiting intense anger and resentment when asked to undergo a physical examination and obtain a certificate from a reputable physician as to his fitness for marriage?—M. J.
Answer—Well, he may be very beautiful, or obsessed with the belief that he is an exception and not like ordinary men, or extremely fond of himself and determined that the bride shall have him without such formalities, or a little doubtful that he could get the certificate. Every prospective bridegroom should produce such a certificate as a matter of course, to matter who or what he may be. Every parent or guardian should expect such a certificate; if it is not voluntarily furnished, ask for it, before consenting to a marriage. The young man who becomes offended about such a thing is not the sort with whom to risk the altar.

Dope
Taking tabloid triple bromide off and on last four months. Kindly advise if harmful.—Mrs. G. B. E.
Answer—Such a drug should not be taken unless by the advice and under the observation of your physician, because improperly used it is capable of doing much harm.

Is a cup of ginger tea in the evening after being in the cold all day harmful? Some say it opens the pores and makes one more susceptible to catching cold.—S. W.
Answer—A hot drink, if desired, is all right, but I would suggest lemonade, tea, coffee, cocoa, soup or hot water, rather than ginger. It has no effect on the pores, besides there are no pores; even if there were any and there is no risk of contracting disease through them. All of the diseases jammed together under the misleading name of "colds" are respiratory infections, none of them enters thru the skin, save perhaps in Chicago, Buffalo and Jameville, where the health authorities have fine old notions about such things. ## A FAIRY STORY

Sit here on my knee, little girl, and I'll tell
A story to you
Of a fairy I knew
Who lived in a garden when I was a child.
She was lovely to see and whenever she smiled
The sunbeams came dancing around just to know
Whatever it was that was pleasing her so.
She lived in a poppy and used to peek out
And shout: "Oh, Yoo-hoo!"
I've been waiting for you!"
And then I'd go over to her house and play
And she'd saddle a bee and we'd both ride away.
Or sometimes we'd take a most wonderful trip
With the sky for the sea and a cloud for our ship.
Oft my father and mother would look out and say:
"The glad little elf
Plays there all by himself,
And he comes and tells us of things he has seen."

And the marvelous places to which he has been;
He tells us of dining with princes and kings,
It's a curious boy who can think up such things.
Now this all occurred in the long years ago,
And the fairy has fled,
And the poppies are dead,
And never again may I ride on a bee
Or sail on a cloud with the sky for the sea.
But that fairy has promised, when poppies are fair,
To come back again and to wait for you there.
Yes, you can go out when the skies are all blue
And see what I've seen,
And go where I've been.
You can have fairies to lead you away,
To show you strange sights and to shore in your play;
And the grown-ups may say that your fancies are wild,
But fairies are real to an innocent child.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be flaky, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.
Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, cramp, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

'MOST EVERYBODY PELTS THE MOVIES - WHY?

(By GERTRUDE GILLHAM)

B RICKBATS are flying at the movies faster than at any time since the industry started. What's all this shootin' for? Let's stop and ponder the situation.

The movie is now one of the country's greatest industries—fourth or fifth.

At least 999 out of every 1,000 engaged in any capacity in the game are in it for the money they can get. That goes for all, from Will Hays down to the latest carpenter hired in Hollywood.

Then why all this yapping at Adolph Zukor, Marcus Lowe, William Fox, Carl Laemmle and other leaders in the industry, because they formerly held humble places in the clothing or fur business?

Carnegie, Schwab, Ford and almost all the leaders in commerce and finance once were in humble circumstances.

The movie, as now constituted, is mostly a matter of commerce and finance. Whatever art it has, has been brought about by the public. When more art has meant more money, more art has been put into the movies.

If red paint meant more sales, Ford would paint his machines red. As long as the movie is considered by 999 of every 1,000 in it as an industry that pays good returns on the capital and labor invested in it, it will be only an industry.

And these artists, these altruists, who would do so much to help the movie!

Bob Sherwood, movie critic, hands a pat on the back to Peter B. Kyne for quitting the movies when he might have stayed and made big money.

Kyne wasn't in the movies long, but he was in long enough to know just how the camera tells a story and what its story-telling capacity is. Kyne stayed too long to receive much credit for passing up the opportunity to make money.

There was Penrhyn Stanlaws, the portrait painter, who became a movie director. When he left, he fired a broadside at them, pointing out that no film was perfect in its beauty.

You see, he had the artist's viewpoint.

The art of the motion pictures—and it is truly an art—consists in something more than pictures and subtitles. It has its own idiom of expression.

These writers and painters who come to the movies primarily because they can get more money there than elsewhere, should hold their tongues if they are unwilling to contribute, or try to contribute, something to the development of an art that is not their art.

If they can do that, these ex-pressers and ex-spongers will pay them a pretty price, for good art is good business.

SAYS RELIEF IS REMARKABLE

"Plant Juice Seems to Act on the Entire System," Says Mr. Phillips

RELIEVED OF RHEUMATISM

"Your Plant Juice medicine brought remarkable results in my case and I can highly recommend it," said Mr. William Phillips of Cridersville, Ohio, while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where this surprising herbal medicine is being introduced and explained to the public.

"It seems that Plant Juice acts at once on the entire system. It surely did me a great deal of good," Mr. Phillips continued.

"I had been troubled with the rheumatism which seemed to be all over my body. My arms and shoulders were stiff and I had pains in my back and limbs which were so bad that I could not sleep right at night but would have to keep turning from one side to the other. I also suffered from the catarrh and it caused a buzzing sound in my ears which troubled me a great deal. I was in a run down condition of health in general; appetite was poor and everything I ate caused a heavy feeling in my stomach.

"Finally, I started taking your Plant Juice and it has improved me so much that I am feeling like a different man. The rheumatism is a great deal better and my back and legs don't pain me as they did before. The catarrh has been greatly relieved also so that the buzzing sound in my ears is almost gone. I can eat about anything I want now without any bad after effects and, in short, the results I have derived from your Plant Juice are remarkable and I highly recommend it."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argoine drug store, opposite Post Office.

New Keith Bill Offered Thursday

A concatenation of humor has been assembled by Manager Clark of the Faurot Opera House for the entertainment of Keith fans during the week-end and in advance reports can be taken as a criterion, should prove the outstanding bill of the season.

McRae and Clegg are the curtain-raiser, this being their first engagement since leaving New York. They are comical cyclists and the stamp of approval of "big time" is thoroughly written on their act.

Basing the idea for their act on a nation-wide topic, Ted Cleveland and Peggy Dowry offer "Are You Next?" a vehicle in which clever situations and humorous discoveries abound from start to finish. It is described as a satire which fairly vibrates with animation and life as presented by Ted and Peggy.

The biggest little man in vaudeville is Master Gabriel. Formerly a star of "Buster Brown" fame, he is heading a company of his own and

Reynor Lehr Here In Person Saturday

REYNOR LEHR, one of the most popular comedians on the vaudeville stage, who appeared in Lima at the head of his own company on his previous visit and now on his 54th week at the Broadway Theatre, Columbus, with a company of 42 artists, will appear in his renowned dancing specialty Saturday evening at the Orpheum. Only due to the fact that Mr. Lehr is taking a short rest and because of his warm friendship for Manager Shaw of the Orpheum, he has promised his personal appearance at both performances on Saturday evening. He will be an extra added feature with Harrison's Big Revue, which is pleasing Orpheum patrons this week.

An entire change of bill will be offered starting at Thursday's matinee. "Don't Lie to Your Wife" is the title of the play and it is filled to the brim with humorous situations. "Snooze" will be seen in the leading comedy role. As an extra feature tomorrow night, a dancing contest will be offered when the gentlemen of Lima will be invited to step upon the stage and dance with the fair lady members of the company and compete for cash prizes for the best fox trot; or men, you can bring your own girls.

AT THE LYRIC
Jane Novak in "Thelma," Marie Corelli's classic romance of the Norwegian hills is appearing for the first time today at the Lyric theatre.

AT THE RIALTO
"The Love Gambler" starring John Gilbert will be seen for the initial times today at the Rialto.

AT THE FAUROT
Keith vaudeville, including five acts of unusual calibre. Entire change of program Thursday. Also comedy.

AT THE NEW ORPHEUM
"The Girl From Panama" is the offering of Harrison's Big Revue for the final times today at the Orpheum. Change of program tomorrow.

AT THE SIGMA
"The Hottentot," an adaptation of William Collier's greatest stage success and co-starring Douglas MacLean and Madge Bellamy is remaining until Saturday at the Sigma theatre. A comedy, "Country Chickens," Hearst's International News and Sigma Quality orchestra accompany the picture.

AT THE MAJESTIC
Corinne Griffith in "Island Wives" is the attraction for the last times today at the Majestic theatre. Added features.

Louise Fazenda is at present probably more in demand at the studios than any other player. While playing the part of the Swedish maid in "Main Street" she has completed several short comedies, turned down four contracts and accepted an important role in the film version of William Dudley Pelley's "The Fog."

THE open meeting, Saturday afternoon, at the Elks' Home, will be the final meeting of the Lima Federation of Women's clubs, under the able leadership of Mrs. Beecher Moke, as president. Mrs. E. B. Taylor is the newly elected president of the Federation and will assume her duties immediately. Mrs. Moke's regime has been most successful and she has started many noble projects, which Mr. Taylor will materialize.

The gathering Saturday promises to be an enjoyable one. There will be a reception from 12:30 to 1 o'clock, preceding the luncheon, in order that the women may become acquainted with Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, who will lecture following the luncheon, and Mrs. Judson Pierce, vice-president of the North-west district of Federated clubs, of Toledo.

Luncheon tables will be laid in the ball room. During the luncheon reports of the different committees will be given and immediately following the luncheon a musical program, arranged by Mrs. Ira Longworth, head of the department of music of the Federation, will be given.

Community singing, entire assembly, led by Mrs. John Ufer. Vocal solos: (a) Nocturne, Paul Curran; (b) Today, Charles Hiner; Mrs. Clarence Klingner, accompanied by Miss Mary K. Roby. Quintette, "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," Ethelbert Nevin, sung by Mrs. F. E. Gooding, Mrs. Clem Baxter, Mrs. R. S. Woods, Mrs. T. H. Schoonover, and Miss Margaret Gregg. Accompanied by Miss Mary K. Roby and Miss Violet Bradley. "Woman's Part in the New Europe," Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker. Installation of new officers, in charge of Mrs. Judson Pierce.

Club women from Columbus Grove, Van Wert, Bluffton and Delphos have signified their intention of attending the meeting, Saturday. Reservations must be made by Thursday noon to Mrs. M. M. Kellner, Mrs. J. E. Dexter or Mrs. Eugene Lippincott.

Her enunciation perfect, her voice full of pathos, her appearance most attractive, Princess Tsianina charmed her audience of music lovers at Memorial Hall, Tuesday evening. With her appeared Charles Wakefield Cadman, piano soloist, and his rendition of his own compositions was most enthusiastically received.

The songs sung by the Princess had tones representative of many Indian tribe melodies, such as the Zuni, Sioux, Navajo, Omaha and Ojibwa. Before her solos, Mr. Cadman gave a few introductory remarks, pointing out the important technical differences. Princess Tsianina's solo, "Lover's Proposal" by Fryer was one of the most appreciated, as well as Cadman's "Canoe Song" from the opera, "Shanewis." The audience was delighted when Mr. Cadman announced that Princess Tsianina would sing, as an encore, "Al Dandwing." The assembled group seemed spell-bound with her presentation of this wonderful love song. The final number of the program were solos from the American Opera, "Shanewis."

This opera was written by Cadman and is the only American opera successfully produced for two seasons by the American Grand Opera Co. The theme of the opera is, in part, a story of the Princess Tsianina, an educated Indian woman, possesses an unusually fine contralto voice.

Mrs. Harry Macdonald, member of the Women's Music club and noted pianist, said: "I thought Princess Tsianina was marvelous. Her maintaining the Indian style, while singing English words was very fine and also perhaps the Women's Music club has brought finer contraltos to the city, Princess Tsianina's tones and pathos was unusually good. We were fortunate in obtaining both Princess Tsianina and Charles W. Cadman."

The last concert of the Women's music club, under the leadership of Mrs. Clem Baxter, will be given April 13th, at Memorial Hall, when Frieda Hempel, soprano soloist, will appear in a Jennie Lind Concert.

Friday afternoon, the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Israel will hold their regular monthly benefit concert party in the Temple Annex. Tables will be arranged for bridge and rum and play will begin at 2:15 o'clock.

Mrs. B. Rosenbaum is chairman of the committee in charge and her assistants are: Mrs. Alex Frankel, Mrs. L. Rothstein, Mrs. Robert Stein and Mrs. Julius Solomon.

Mrs. I. W. Brown, W. Market-st., will entertain the members of the Progressive Bridge club at her home, Thursday afternoon.

Household Suggestions

CRISP COOKIES

Sprinkle sugar on your cookies before baking to make them crisp.

KEEPS NEEDLES BRIGHT

Your needles will never rust if you make the leaves of your needle-book of chamomile skin instead of flannel.

REMOVES INK STAINS

Indelible ink stains are difficult to remove, but they will not survive an application of equal parts of turpentine and ammonia.

IT SAVES DISHWASHING

Clean all fish, fowl and vegetables on a paper and burn it. This saves dishwashing and scrubbing.

BATH FOR THE PLANTS

Your household plants will flourish and bloom if you give them a bath about once a month in water to which ammonia has been added—say a teaspoon to a quart of liquid.

TINS EASY TO CLEAN

Lino your cake tins with waxed paper and you won't have to scour them so hard after using.

ONION ODOR

Remove the odor of fish or onions from frying pans by scalding vinegar. In them, then washing in the usual fashion.

ORANGE CREAM

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Strawberry preserves on orange cream makes a delicious dish for afternoon teas or dessert at dinners. To make the orange cream, dissolve one and one-half cups of sugar, or enough to sweeten, in two cups of orange juice. Add two cups of cream, thin or medium, a few grains of salt, and freeze, using three measures of ice to one of salt.

Serve the cream in orange skins which have been washed and chilled. Or a pretty method of serving is as follows:

In a sherbet glass put two or three sections of orange and a little powdered sugar. Over this fill the glass with the cream. Garnish the top with orange sections, free from skin and seed, or strawberry preserves.

COUE-ISM AS A BEAUTY TREATMENT

(BY MARIAN HALE)

Now that Coue has returned to France after telling us how to cure our bodily ills by means of autosuggestion, along comes one of his fair countrywomen to explain how we can make ourselves beautiful by the same method.

The treatment's apostle is Adrienne Lachamp, the dramatic dancer, already well known on the stages of most European capitals and at many theatres in Asia, but just making her first visit to America.

Mademoiselle Lachamp's own boudoir is her beauty parlor. Her beauty doctors are the poets, artists, philosophers and sculptors who have seen real beauty and left a record of it.

YOUR SUBCONSCIOUS MIND
"Nobody else can cultivate your mind for you," she says. "It's something you must do for yourself."

"And just so, you must bring out your own beauty; it can't be done for you by another."

"But your subconscious mind is a reservoir of power. You might as well draw on it."

"Coue tells us that the subconscious mind is most receptive to suggestion when the conscious mind is closed against the day's clamor—just before falling asleep or immediately after awakening."

TAGORE AND THE HILL
"So, no matter what creams or lotions you may have applied to your face, don't consider that your night's beauty stint has been completed until you have read some exquisite piece of prose or poetry, that your thoughts, just as you sink to sleep, may be beautiful ones."

"I find Tagore most helpful—and the Bible."

"Thus the facial muscles become relaxed. They mirror a harmonious mental state, instead of being drawn into the hard lines of strain and mental conflict.

"To suggest to yourself each night 'Every day, in every way I become more beautiful' also will remind the subconscious mind of its duty."

COPY WHAT'S BEAUTIFUL
"Then, as often as possible, see beautiful expressions of human character as portrayed by painters and sculptors."

"Try to copy the beautiful expressions you see in famous works of art, and to assume the bodily poses of grace, as represented in classical statues.

"You must take a conscious effort to do this—to bring into play the facial and bodily muscles which counteract the natural inclination to live hurriedly and carelessly, ignoring the beauty of reflection and calm."

SWIM, DANCE, WALK
"Lastly, indulge as frequently as you can in the three natural forms of expression which keep the body supple and healthy—swimming, walking and dancing."

"I don't say a woman shouldn't take care of her hair and skin. I do say that external care amounts to nothing unless one also cultivates the mind and soul, and to this end autosuggestion is the most efficient agency."

BLUE EYES
You are perfectly right when you say you do not want him to think you are "running after" him; he is the one who should make the first advances. Invite a group of friends to your home some evening, for games or dancing; ask him if he would not care to come. When he realizes your hospitality, he probably will overcome his bashfulness. If he does not call on you, following the party, then I would not try and encourage him. It would not look well.

Sport hats of silk, straw and felt will be worn. Also, picture hats of straw, trimmed in flowers or berries.

Dear Miss Smart:
Will the spring styles of last spring be worn this season? My coat is about to be worn, which was all the rage last summer, and with the large wide sleeves. Since the dresses are so long, would it be advisable to wear this coat with trousers? It is an expensive coat and I hate to put that in another one. Which would you advise me to do?

Wear your last spring's coat by all means. If you bought something new every time the styles changed you would have an enormous wardrobe. I feel sure your coat will look all right.

A "Typical Case"

There are certain symptoms which, when all shown at once, enable a physician to readily recognize this or that disease.

These are called "typical cases."

But because of the individual peculiarities of different persons the readily recognized symptoms are not always apparent. This makes proper diagnosis all the more difficult.

How foolish it seems, when this truth is recognized, for those who have no medical skill and training to attempt to diagnose and treat their own ills.

How futile becomes the bottle of patent medicine or the box of pills recommended by a friend.

Don't mistreat your illnesses—call your physician and call him in time.

You Can Buy USED CARS

Anywhere in this city. They're filling store rooms with them and offering all kinds of inducements to sell 'em. Also you can buy watches anywhere, but you don't do it. You buy your watch of a dealer and from a company you know something about, a firm who runs an established business. Your watch must be dependable and so should the used car you buy.

Used cars sold by us are the most dependable and longest lived in the city. They are priced to suit the man who wants a good car but cannot afford the price of a new one.

U. S. CAPITAL---TAX DODGERS' HEAVEN

WASHINGTON — (Special)
Profiteers, plutocrats and idle rich, take notice.

Washington, the nation's capital, invites you!

Here you may live, with the absolute minimum of annoyance by the tax-collector, in the social center of the nation.

Once the tax-emption advantages of residence in Washington are understood by the nation's rich, says Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury, there will be a gold rush to Washington that will make the stamped to the Klondike look like cold molasses.

"If the rich only knew Washington's wonderful advantages in the way of taxes," Shaw says, "this city would have a population of 1,000,000."

The population under the 1920 census was 487,511.

TAX EXEMPTIONS
Consider this: If you live in any other sizable city, you have a municipal tax to pay for the city's upkeep, a county tax for the maintenance of county government and, on top of this, a state tax. Above all this you have a federal income tax and in many states a state income tax.

But in Washington there is only one tax besides the federal income tax. That is the District of Columbia "property tax" and the federal government assumes 40 percent of the cost of administering the district, the local tax is lower than for most cities of Washington's size.

But while Washington is a most desirable place for the man with money, it is a city the ambitious young man should shun.

"Sleeping beneath the poppies in Flanders, to my mind, is preferable to a government clerkship," Shaw declares.

"I believe all government clerks should be taken under civil service rules and at the end of five years put out by statute."

"Five years in Washington is a liberal education to a young person with brains and vision and plenty of good congenial work."

"But 20 years of hum-drum department work is death."

YOU CAN'T VOTE

And to the patriotic American who likes to feel he is a part of his government, there is one barrier in a Washington residence—the Washingtonian list no vote.

His city is run by Congress and by commissioners appointed by the president. And he has no voice in the election of Congress or the president.

Just now there is an active campaign under way to obtain suffrage for the District of Columbia. But—"You think you want a vote here, but you don't," Shaw says. "If you turn the city over to the people, your city will go down and your taxes up. If anyone doubts that let him compare the caliber of our appointed officials here with some recently elected senators."

LIKE a beacon in the Dark, the A. B. C. Torch of Verified Circulation shows the safe road of Sound Advertising Practice.

Today, all the investigating and reporting facilities of the Bureau are at the service of the advertiser, furnishing reports on practically all the worth-while publications of Canada and the United States.

In its eight years of diligent service to the Advertising and Publishing World, the A. B. C. has brought Circulation Buying from the darkness of Uncertainty to the light of Verified Circulation.

The Bureau has established the principle of Honesty in Circulation as the standard of practice in buying and selling advertising space.

Most advertisers today protect their appropriations by demanding A. B. C. reports and placing their campaign in the light of the valuable data they contain.

The Lima News is a member of the A. B. C. and would be pleased to submit a copy of the latest circulation report

SHORT SHAVINGS

Column of Anecdotes About Home Folks

What is the funniest experience that ever happened to you? Write it out briefly and send it to the Short Shavings editor of The Lima News. For the best contributed Short Shavings published in the week The News will pay $1. Full names and address must be signed.

C. E. Phillips, 816 S. Main-st., submits the following: "One day at a fair a woman took her son inside a tent to have his fortune told. The soot bent over the crystal ball and remarked, 'Madam, your son will be a noted man if he lives long enough.' The mother asked what he would be noted for, whereupon the fortune teller replied, 'For his old age.'"

Mrs. Rella Andrews, General Delivery, writes about her daughter, Paltese, aged 12 years, who asked her how much Indian blood she had in her. "About one-eighth," the mother replied. "Oh," remarked the child, "that makes me a thirty-second degree Indian."

"My father read an article in The Lima News about airplanes being allowed to fly only within a certain number of feet above the house tops. My young brother overheard the remark, ran to his mother saying, 'Oh mother, then old Santa Claus won't come, 'cause I saw his picture in the paper in an airplane with all us kids' toys.' Then in a totally disgusted tone, he added, 'Darn! I don't see why they couldn't have waited till after Xmas.'"

Submitted by Mrs. Helen McKibben, 419 W. Elm-st.

Bob Shaw started to empty a cat-pen sweeper on the rail of his back porch. He leaned out too far and went over the rail himself. He landed in what was left of the cat's dinner, a neighbor reports, and barely missed the cat.

Ralph Austin, contractor, says a joke is a joke but that he thinks the practical joker who put some glue inside the toe of his shoe was going too far. "When I tried to take off my shoe in a hurry," he says, "I nearly took off my leg with it and threw myself over backward."

Paul Fennessey tells about a policeman who went to a house to see about a vicious dog. "The dog turned out to be a most amiable creature with a friendly tail. He gave the dog a nice pat on the head. As he started away he was set upon and nearly eaten up by a dog owned by the neighbor who had made the complaint."

Otto Weger, Delphos, amateur ornithologist, reports he observed an early robin looking about. "I don't know so much about birds as I would like," he says. "But I'm pretty sure this was a robin. I had a good look at it and I'm certain it wasn't a sparrow, at the least."

After Every Meal

WRIGLEY'S

"A bite to eat—a bit of sweet"

After a substantial meal, the children naturally want to top off with a bit of sweet.

Give them WRIGLEY'S, the great American Sweetmeat.

It combines the enjoyment of sweet with many BENEFITS. It cleanses the teeth, removing food particles that lodge in the crevices. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, soothes the throat, and lastly—

WRIGLEY'S helps the stomach by supplying saliva to aid in digestive work.

Made clean, kept clean, sealed tight in a wax-wrapped package.

A Woman's Message to Women:

Only a Woman Knows a Woman's Trials and Understands Her Need of Sympathy and Help

That is why hundreds of women gladly testify to the value of Mrs. Sumners' popular Opaline Home Treatment in relieving so much of the misery and suffering known only to womankind. READ, if you are troubled with some of these special ailments of women—

SEND FOR A FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT with descriptive literature. Test Mrs. Sumners' Opaline Remedy for yourself, in your home, without the knowledge or aid of anyone. You can then continue if you wish, at about 12c a week. For twenty-five years women reported it satisfactory, and often superior to vegetable tonics and compounds. Used by old and young and does not interfere with daily work. Write in confidence, as your letter is opened, read and answered by a woman.

MOUNT OLIVE, N. C.
I don't know where I would be had it not been for your treatment. When I wrote for the first treatment my health was so bad I could not do any of my housework. My mother came and started taking your treatment. I can't praise too highly your treatment, for it has made me new again. I am now, as you say, my present health is good. Mrs. Sumners' Home Treatment is wonderful and I will recommend it to all of my friends for it will do what it says it will. You can use my name any time, for I can't praise a good treatment enough.
MRS. SALLIE BUDD.

HAIRIRA, GA.
I am writing a few words of praise for the benefit of other poor suffering women. I started taking your treatment last February. I could not cook or do my housework. My mother came and started taking your treatment. I can't praise too highly your treatment, for it has made me new again. I am now, as you say, my present health is good. Mrs. Sumners' Home Treatment is wonderful and I will recommend it to all of my friends for it will do what it says it will. You can use my name any time, for I can't praise a good treatment enough.
